

F5 Networks Failure Analysis Policy

F5 makes available Failure Analysis (FA) Reports which contain product name, serial number, part number, date the analysis was completed, root cause information, diagnostics and follow-up corrective actions by F5, if necessary. All FA Reports must be requested by the customer while troubleshooting the Return of Material Authorization (RMA) case or prior to returning the suspected faulty unit back to F5.

FA reports must be requested at time of Service Order creation.

FA report requests will NOT be approved for FRUs or cosmetic related issues. FRUs = Field Replaceable Units, such as Power Supplies, Fan Trays, Hard Drives.

FA report requests will be cancelled for suspect systems NOT returned to F5 within 90 days of Service Order creation date.

Only abbreviated FA reports are available for units older than 3 years past the official end of sale date. Official End of Sale dates are published in AskF5.com solution SOL4309.

All requests for FA Reports must be reviewed and approved by F5 Networks Support Management. F5 Networks targets delivery of FA Reports within 90 days after receiving the returned unit.

Doc number: PUB-0289-00
Name: FA Policy
Updated: August 29, 2019